New York Stock Market

NEW YORK, August 23.—From the firegular and reactionary course of prices to-day it is very clear that the stock market is still in a highly sensitive state, and dependent largely upon developments of the next few days. Foremost among these is the health of E. H. Harriman, concerning which the usual conflicting statements again were current, but of which more definite knowledge ought to be obtainable. The day brought the usual over-Sunday news. Traffic officials of leading railway systems in the Middle West are virtually unanimous in their declarations that business is steadily mounting higher, in some instances beyond all expectations, with an especially large movement in merchandise. As an indication of the increased tonnage it was reported today that the railroads centring at Chicago have in mind an increase of 2 cents per hundred pounds in "freight terminal service." Foreign advices were cheerful in the main, although at London consols and other high-class securities were heavy on fears of gold exports, presumably to Paris.

Contrarlwise, Berlin cables were most optimistic, with reported steady betterment in Germany's industrial condition. Taking its cue from London, where Americans, especially Union Pacific, were very active and strong, our market began operations in the same fashion.

The advantage was fleeting, however, vigorous selling of the Harriman issues soon wiping out all advances, and by noon prices of Union Pacific and Southern Pacific were under last Saturday's lowest quotations, while strong pressure was being exerted upon Reading and United States Steel

The market was steady all day and kept above Saturday's closing in spite of the fact that the hot wave in the West appeared broken and the rain for drought sections appeared sure. Fear of a very low condition crop report from the government on September stimulated buying for both long and short account. The movement of new cotton was heavy, but this was taken more as evidence of a good demand than as the result of pressure to sell. Telegrams from San Antonio, Tex, said more buyers had gathered there than was ever known before. Reports of premature opening of boils and expected damage to this open cotton by rain were also as upporting factor. At the highest prices were 16 21 points over Saturday's closing, The closing was very steady at a net advance of 10 21 points over Saturday's closing.
